Summary

I'm a frontend developer based in the Czech Republic with a passion for creating engaging and user-friendly interfaces. With a background in sales and project management, I bring a unique blend of skills to my work in web development.

In the past year, I've successfully completed several projects, including Ascendo's new E-learning platform, as well as website redesigns for ADR Nord-Vest and Regio Nord-Vest. I am currently working on redesigning the whole Ascendo website.

These projects allowed me to apply my skills in HTML, CSS, and Wordpress, JavaScript and React to create compelling user experiences that meet my clients' goals.

I am currently seeking a long-term in-house frontend developer position where I can continue to grow and contribute to a dynamic and innovative team. If you're looking for a skilled and motivated frontend developer to join your team, let's connect and explore how I can help your organization achieve its goals.
